Newsy Notes of Pendleton

New Third Grade Teacher.

The local school board has elected Miss Mary Cooper to the position of third grade teacher in one of the local schools to take the place made vacant by the resignation of Miss Mattel Elder. Miss Cooper is a recent arrival from Albia, Iowa.

Three Sent to Jail.

Three men were brought before Judge Fitz Gerald this morning on the charge of disorderly conduct. All pleaded guilty and each one was given a two day sentence in jail. Their names appear on the docket as D. J. Edmunds, James Nolin and John Welling.

Pays to Transport Children.

In a letter to County School Superintendent Welles, W. S. Mayberry, teacher in the country school on the Walla Walla river, declares it is a paying proposition for the district to maintain transportation facilities for the children who live at a distance from the school house. He reports a constant attendance even in the coldest weather as a result and also a noticeable absence of colds and sore throats among the pupils.

Horse Warns Chicken's Feet.

Passersby were amused during the noon hour by the sight of a little bantam hen perched upon the broad back of a horse tied near the intersection of Main and Water street. The feet of the little chicken which belongs to Walter Bowman, the photographer, had evidently become cold from the snow and it had taken up its perch on the horse's back to get the benefit of the animal heat.

Irrigation Companies Elected.

At a recent meeting of the stockholders of the Furnish Ditch company and the Inland Irrigation company, the old officers were reelected to their positions, namely: W. J. Furnish, president; E. P. Marshall, vice president and manager; R. H. Irvin, secretary-treasurer. The same officers serve both companies. At the meeting plans for further improvements of the company's irrigation systems were discussed.

The Lost is Found.

The mystery regarding the whereabouts of Charles E. Macomber, a well known former grain buyer and civil engineer of this city, is cleared and his friends will dismiss the anxiety they have felt for him. Macomber left here about a year ago to visit relatives in the east. He left his personal effects here and intended when he left to return in a few weeks but, when he failed to return and no word was received from him, his friends became worried and recently through the Knights of Pythias, of which order he was a member, an effort was begun to locate his whereabouts. A letter received this morning by R. W. Fletcher from W. H. B. Kendall, K. R. S. of the K of P, lodge at Fall River, Mass., states that Macomber is there visiting with his mother whom he had not seen for 25 years when he arrived in that city a year ago. The letter states also that he had intended returning to Oregon within a few weeks after his arrival but that his mother would not listen to such a plan, and concludes with the statement that he will probably locate in Fall City permanently.

LAD WALKS THE TIES; DOG CAN'T KEEP UP

Visalia.—With a mongrel dog in his arms, which he said he had carried for the last ten miles of a journey afoot from Bakersfield, E. T. Morton, a lad in his teens, applied to the physicians of the County Hospital for surgical aid for his canine companion. The dog's feet were sore and bleeding and had been wrapped in bandages made from a pocket handkerchief.

Morton related that he had been at work in Bakersfield, and, when he lost his position and found that he had but $30 saved, he decided to walk the distance to a new job in Fresno rather than pay railroad fare. His pet dog accompanied him on the journey. Walking over the jagged slag with which the railroad is ballasted proved a painful experience for his pet, and when within ten miles of Visalia Morton found the little animal's feet pitifully cut. Morton bundled the dog into his arms and carried it to this city.

Attendants at the hospital rigged two pairs of boots for Morton's pet, and, when the boots were stuffed with cotton and fitted to the injured feet, the dog capered joyfully ahead of his faithful friend as they set out from the hospital for the remaining twenty five miles of the journey. Morton proudly refused offers of aid for himself and said he was amply able to pay his way as he went.

Todd Announces Candidacy.

JOHN MCCOURT TELLS PLANS.

long since that it is believed by some people in Washington that the supreme court went too far in its ruling and that when the question comes before that tribunal again it may recede to some extent from its past position. Whether or not this prospect has anything to do with the delay in establishing the local rights is a matter for speculation.

PUPILS DEBATE OVER LIVE OREGON ISSUE

At the Washington school a spirited and interesting debate was held yesterday afternoon between teams from the seventh and eighth grades, the subject being, "Resolved, that life imprisonment with restricted powers of pardon should be substituted for capital punishment in the United States."

For the seventh graders Thomas Murphy, Sheldon Ulrich and Ernest Boylen argued and they upheld the affirmative. The eighth graders were represented by Ernest Crockett, Joe Despain and Donald Robinson who spoke for the negative. Clayton Strain, member of the high school debating team presided, and the judges were Miss Lotta Fleck, librarian, Chester Poe and Claud Hampton, the last two named being also of the high school debating team.

The decision of the judges was in favor of the negative but all who attended the debate give high praise to the work done by both sides. All the debaters argued earnestly for their respective sides and both sides presented good arguments. However, the eighth grade team surpassed their younger opponents in the matter of delivery.

ATTEMPTS MADE ON LIFE OF MURDERED MAN'S SON

Chicago, Jan. 13.—Attempts have been made to assassinate Dr. Arthur Morrow, a stepson of the murdered inventor, Chas. Morrow, whose wife is accused of complicity. Morrow was shot at several times last night, the police say. Morrow says he doesn't believe the bullets were meant for him. Detectives find a motive for the crime in the woman's relations with an automobile salesman who is missing.

JOY RIDE ENDS FATAALLY TO FIVE PEOPLE

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 13.—Five are dead and the sixth probably will die as a result of an automobile joy ride accident this morning on the River road. The machine driven by Frederick Foster, who escaped badly injured, crashed over an embankment into a reservoir. The dead are: Donald Reed, son of former State Supreme Judge Chester, Van Clee, Henlen Mulviny, Margaret Tinball and Sarah Hetzer.
